

SPELL IT OUT

tackling homophobia
in our schools

This resource is for teachers, to help them better understand and tackle homophobia and homophobic bullying in schools. It contains information on areas such as:

- dealing with homophobic language in the classroom
- practical ideas for your school, such as training
- what to do if a young person comes out to you

It has been produced, with the support of the Mayor of London, as part of Stonewall's Education for All campaign to tackle homophobia in schools. It can be used as part of INSET training days, and contains useful materials and resources to take this work forward.

education for all

For further copies or more information please contact education@stonewall.org.uk

"I hope Spell It Out will motivate London's school staff to work together to tackle homophobic bullying and make London's schools safer for all pupils."

Ken Livingstone, Mayor of London

MAYOR OF LONDON

Produced by Heavy Entertainment

Consultants Mark Jennett and Spare Tyre Theatre Company

Designed by Lucy Ward

With thanks to the pupils and staff of Acland Burghley High School

A HEAVY
ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTION

Spare Tyre Theatre Company

SPELL IT OUT

tackling homophobia
in our schools

tackling homophobia
in our schools

SPELL IT OUT

teachers'
guide

