

Different Families - Secondary

Stonewall's home learning packs can be used by parents or carers looking to support their child's learning or by education staff looking to send work home for their students. There is a primary, secondary and SEND version of each pack, with a list of suggested activities and supporting materials for you to pick and choose from.

Stonewall is a lesbian, gay, bi and trans equality charity working with employers, schools, colleges and services for LGBT acceptance without exception. Find out more about our work here: www.stonewall.org.uk.

A word on online safety: please make sure you supervise your child when they use YouTube or are using the internet for research. Talk to them about what they should do if they see something that makes them feel uncomfortable or that they think they shouldn't be seeing. Use our Staying Safe Online resource or the Childnet website to help you.

Key Stage 3

- Draw or paint a portrait of your family.
- Make an LGBT inclusive story book aimed at primary school children. You could make an e-book in PowerPoint or Scratch, or it could be a paper book. Watch some of Pop'n'Oilly's videos for inspiration: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCpjrLd11TqcVXag6sPSU3A>
- Make a family tree for your own family – you could use the example family tree or the Frida Kahlo family tree picture to help you, but you might think of another way. Can you use Scratch or PowerPoint to make an interactive family tree? Get creative! Phone some of your family members to help you find out more about your family history.
- Write a script for a podcast about families. Think about your own family but other people's families too. You could use the pictures of different families to help you. What do all families have in common? What are some of the things that make other families different from each other?
- Create a short comic book story about an event that happened to your family or a situation that your family has faced.
- Using Stonewall's Different Families, Same Love poster as inspiration, design a poster to show primary school children about lots of different family types.

Key Stage 4

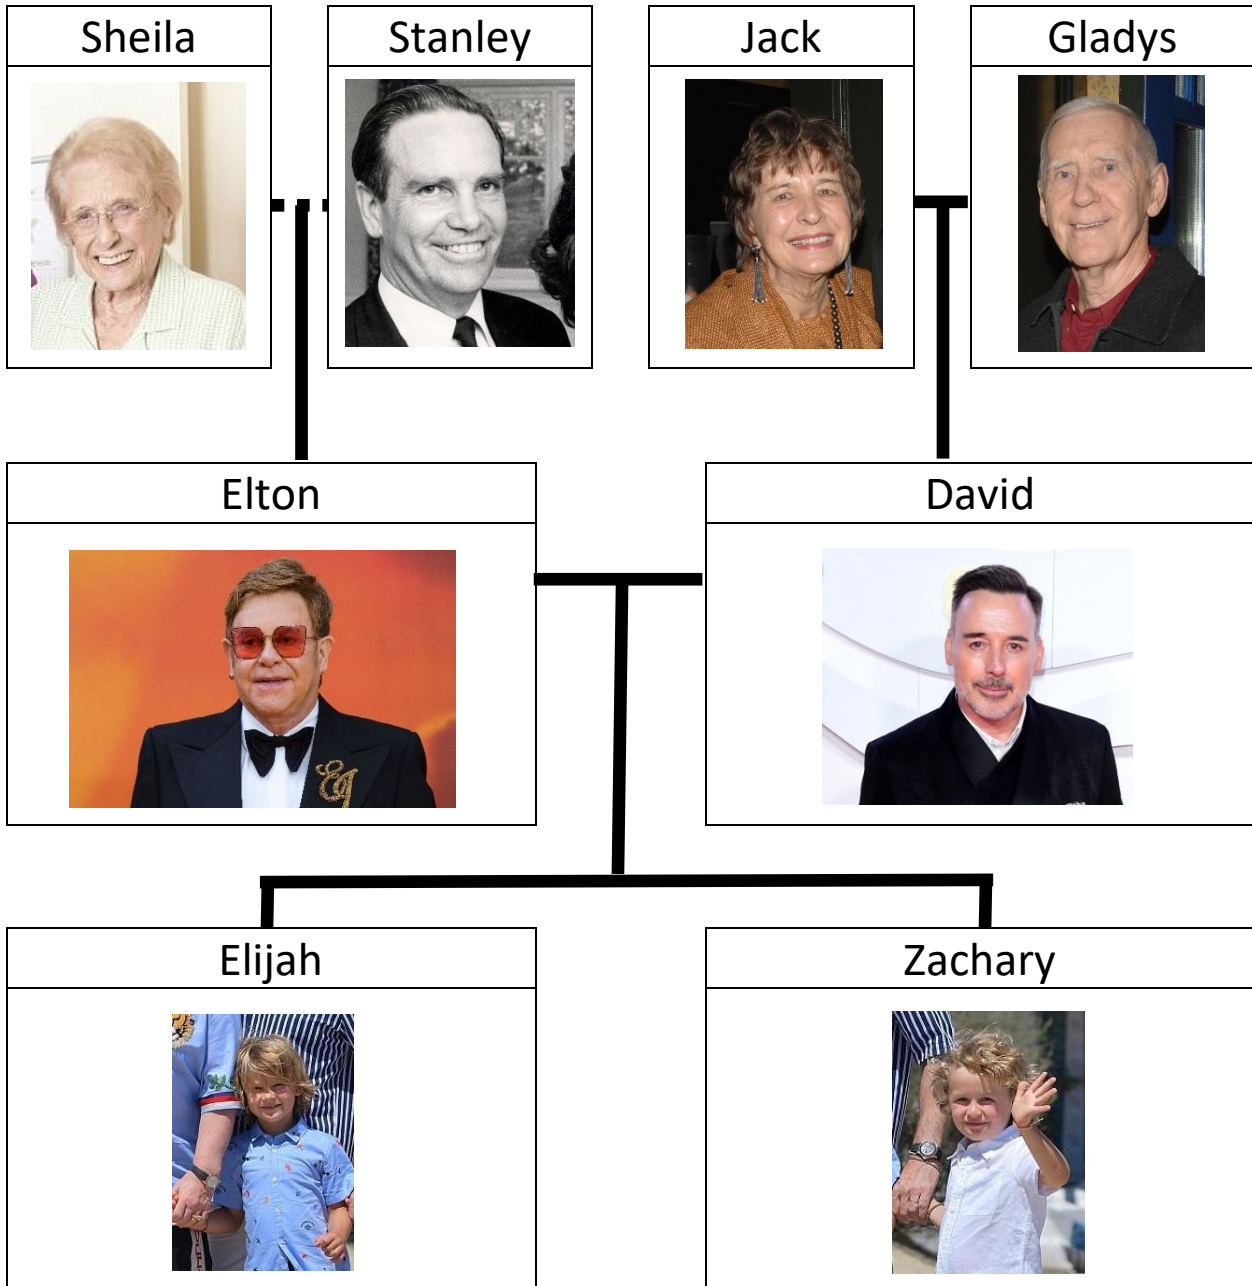

- Draw or paint a portrait of your family.
- Make an LGBT inclusive story book aimed at primary school children. You could make an e-book in PowerPoint or Scratch, or it could be a paper book. Watch some of Pop'n'Olly's videos for inspiration:
<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCpjrLd11TqcVXag6sPSU3A>
- Make a family tree for your own family – you could use the example family tree or the Frida Kahlo family tree picture to help you, but you might think of another way. Can you use Scratch or PowerPoint to make an interactive family tree? Get creative! Phone some of your family members to help you find out more about your family history.
- Write a script for a podcast about families. Think about your own family but other people's families too. You could use the pictures of different families to help you. What do all families have in common? What are some of the things that make other families different from each other? Are there some issues faced by families with LGBT parents or carers that other families might face?
- Write a chapter for your autobiography describing an event that happened to your family or a situation that your family has faced.
- Write a short essay to explain how LGBT people's rights in the UK have changed in a way that has improved life for families with LGBT parents, carers or children. Use Stonewall's 30 Moments on the way to LGBT equality page for your research.

Resources

Example family tree

Elijah's Family

Frida Kahlo's family tree

My comic family

Different families poster

